Stowaways see bus-trip students stuck in France

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A BUS-LOAD of A-level students were stuck in France after two illegal immigrants stowed aboard their coach.

The sixth form pupils from Milton Keynes College were on their way back from a four-day trip to Paris and Disney Land when their coach was stopped at the docks in Calais. The 38 Travel & Tourism National Diploma students were shocked to find two Iranian men stashed in a tiny compartment next to the engine.

The pair had clambered underneath the vehicle and squashed themselves into the tiny 4ftx4ft hole at the rear of the coach, suspended only by a plank of wood.

It is believed the illegal immigrants may have got onto the coach when it stopped at the Cite d'Europe shopping complex, 4km away from Calais, on the way back to the UK.

The students had to wait on the coach for more than two hours while the driver was questioned.

MK College programme manager for travel, Jo Stockley, who led the trip, said: "We had all got off the coach to go through customs.

"When we got back two or three officials ran after us and told us to stop and stay there.

"We briefly saw the two men pulled out from underneath the coach, completely black with dirt and dust.

"The coach was thoroughly checked before they would let us back on board, then we had to wait while the driver was interviewed."

They were told they were not the first coach or lorry to have been found with unwanted passengers that week.

"We saw many of the drivers putting sticks with mirrors on underneath their lorries to check," said Mrs Stockley.

"I have been doing this trip on and off for around 14 years and this is the first time anything like this has happened," she added.

"I have to give credit to the students as instead of thinking 'they held us up', most of them were feeling quite sorry for the men as they were looking so pitiful.

"They were asking questions like 'where will they take them?' and 'what will they be doing with them?".

During the wait some of the students who are studying travel reps as part of their qualification kept the group entertained with quizzes, singing, an award presentation and other activities.

Eighteen-year-old Natasha Freed said: "We were worried and wanted to go home

"Everyone phoned their parents as we were scared what was going to happen.

"You don't expect that kind of thing to ever happen to you."

She said she had sympathy for both the driver, who seemed unaware of the situation, and the men who clung to the bottom of the coach.

Cabbie tells of ordeal at hands of attackers

Jailed: Lee Cook

Jailed: Kenneth McKenna

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A TAXI driver has spoken of his nightmare ordeal at the hands of two thugs who have been sentenced to four years behind bars.

Amjad Nazir has been driving taxis around Milton Keynes for four years but now he refuses to drive at night because he fears for his life.

Mr Nazir was attacked on February 8 by two men he picked up from the Plough pub in Stony Stratford.

Now the men who held a broken glass to his throat before robbing him have been sent to prison.

Kenneth Allan McKenna, from Old Stratford, and Lee Edward Cook, from Middlesex, were jailed for four years at Aylesbury Crown Court on March 14.

Mr Nazir said: "Justice has been served.

"I never thought they would get a severe punishment, just a slap on the wrist.

"I'm glad the law sees that taxi drivers provide a public service and should be protected.

"You don't know who you're picking up and they could take you anywhere.

"All they got away with was £60 - crime doesn't pay.

McKenna, 28, and Cook, 24, had called Skyline to book a taxi from the pub on a Friday night.

Mr Nazir picked them up at 10.45pm, along with a female friend who he dropped in Old Stratford.

But as he was directed back towards the pub, Mr Nazir became aware that something was not right.

"They were a little drunk so I did think they might not pay or do a runner," he said.

"Then one of them smashed something in the back.

"One grabbed me by the neck and the other held the smashed glass against my cheek.

"They said give us some money or we'll do you.

"I was frigthened for my life and I couldn't breath."

After handing over his wallet and £60, the father-of-four called the police, who drove him around Stony Stratford looking for the pair.

Mr Nazir spotted Cook on Queen Elanor Street and the police pounced.

After questioning Cook at the station, officers located McKenna and arrested him.

DC Wayne Watson said: "It was a very serious crime and Mr Nazir is lucky that no further harm came to him. He did the right thing by just doing what they said, keeping calm and calling the police.

"This is a really good result that shows the impact that good police work.

"Their sentence sends out a clear message to the criminal fraternity.

"We will act robustly and get these people put away."

Pervert Peeping Tom spied on women in supermarket toilet

A PEEPING Tom was caught spying on women in the toilet cubicles at a supermarket in Milton Keynes, a court has heard.

Edwin Arthur Dawe, 59, of Pelton Court, Shenley Lodge, went into the ladies toilets at Tesco in Bletchley and locked himself in the middle cubicle.

The pervert crouched down and held a compact mirror under the side of the cubicle to spy on two women to get his sexual kicks.

At Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Thursday, Bill Khindey, prosecuting, said: "He watched them pull down their trousers and use the toilet.

"One of the ladies stated she saw a mirror appear under the cubicle and shouted 'Oi'.

"The incident left her feeling very upset."

He said that minutes later another woman spotted a hand holding a mirror under the cubicle as she pulled her trousers down.

She was described as 'disgusted and upset' by the incident.

The women alerted security staff at the store, who found Dawe hiding in the toilets.

The police were called and arrested him, just after 11.50pm on January 15.

Dawe was charged with observing another person doing a private act, knowing that the person did not consent to being observed for your sexual gratification.

He pleaded guilty to one count under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.

David Gough, defending, described the incident as an 'unsophisticated example of voyeurism' because Dawe did not use recording equipment.

He said Dawe accepts full responsibility for the crime.

Magistrates adjourned the case while probation services compile a pre-sentence report.

Would-be illegal immigrants delay students

"They walked past us, they were dirty with all the black stuff from the engine," she said. "It was shocking but I felt sorry for them as it shows what people will do to get out of their country."

The group caught a later ferry and were home in Milton Keynes by 9pm, more than three hours late.

The coach driver and his bosses at TM Travel, based near Durham, have each been fined £2,000 for each immigrant by the Border and Immigration Agency (BIA).

The would-be illegal immigrants were fingerprinted, photographed and handed over to French police.

The two men were discovered on January 24 but details of the investigation have just been released.

Blaze guts Fenny halal grocer shop

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

AN investigation is under way after a grocer shop was set on fire.

Flames tore through the New Quality Food Store on Aylesbury Street in Fenny Stratford, just after midnight on Monday morning.

Police said that someone had set fire to plastic containers stacked against the metal shutters of the Halal grocery.

Fire engines were at the scene at 12.45am to tackle the blaze but the two-storey shop was severely damaged and around £60,000 of stock and equipment was ruined.

Lee Osbourne, from Bletchley, was on his way to a nearby BP garage with a friend when they spotted the fire and dialled 999.

He said: "It happened so quickly.

"Within 20 minutes the whole place was in flames.

"The building was glowing orange and there was smoke everywhere."

An investigation began soon after, with fire investigation dog Barney and his handler Kerry Burns searching for clues.

DC Matt Darnell said: "It could have easily spread to surrounding businesses and premises and had much more serious consequences. Although it was in the early hours of the morning, Aylesbury Street is quite a busy road and I am hoping someone may have seen something which could help the investigation. A second incident also happened on the same night – a bin was set on fire on Watling Street, which may be connected."

Remains of the grocer shop devastated by fire in Fenny Stratford

Anyone with information can call DC Darnell on 08458 505505 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Wrangle over child's burial place

A MOTHER who has been charged with killing her son is fighting to have his body buried in Derbyshire.

Carol Birch, 43, is accused with murdering her five-year-old son Jay Birch in Buxton on August 2 last year.

In March 2006, she left her home in Milton Keynes, taking Jay and her three children by an earlier relationship, without telling Jay's father Stuart Scotching, from Leighton Buzzard where she was going, according to a High Court writ.

Police found Jay's body, and his unconscious mother, in a property in Corbar Road, Buxton on August 2.

She was arrested and charged after being treated in hospital and is currently at HMP Peterborough awaiting trial.

Mrs Birch is now fighting Mr Scotching's wishes to bury his son in Bedfordshire, as she wants him buried in Derbyshire.

The coroner for the Hundred of Scarsdale and High Peak in Derbyshire has Jay's body and will not release it without a court order.

Mr Scotching says that in the circumstances of Ms Birch's conduct and the nature of Jay's death, he should be given a legal declaration that he is entitled to possession of Jay's body.

Prostate cancer deaths above average

MEN in Milton Keynes are more likely to die from prostate cancer than most other Englishmen.

Figures from the Office of National Statistics reveal that the numbers dying from prostate cancer in England vary wildly across different Parliamentary constituencies.

They show that men in Milton Keynes South West are seven per cent more likely to die from the cancer than men in North East Milton Keynes.

There are 35 deaths per 100,000 population in North East Milton Keynes Parliamentary constituency - 32 per cent higher than the national average.

The figures are worse in Milton Keynes South West, which ranks as the third worst performer in the country, with 37 deaths per 100,000 (39 per cent above the national average).

A statement from Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust said: "In Milton Keynes cancer is the greatest cause of premature deaths (deaths of people aged under 75) and this is something that the PCT is working hard to address.

"In 2006 there were 21 deaths from prostate cancer, down from 30 deaths in 2005, and this drop in numbers is welcomed.

"Prostate cancer grows slowly and symptoms may be mild and develop over many years, so one problem is that the cancer may have progressed by the time someone has been diagnosed."

A spokesman said the figures did not match MKPCT's own findings: "Our own figures will be released next month in the annual report.

"Our figures are consistant with the evidence we have. Although the rate of prostate cancer deaths in Milton Keynes is now not statistically different from the national or regional rates, the PCT would like to see it fall further."

Men should seek advice from their GP early if they have any of the following symptoms:

- Having to rush to the toilet to pass urine
- Difficulty passing urine
- Passing urine more often than usual, especially at night
- Pain on passing urine
- Blood in the urine or semen

Seeing red

SIR – Re 'Hospital ward is dirty claims son of OAP patient'.

This made me all red.

I was on Ward 16 only for six days and nights and I can assure you everything was most professional and efficient.

How can this man complain of anything after the care his mother has had?

Night after night doctors and nurses worked on her.

She needed a lot of care and most of the time the curtains were around her bed, so how could cleaners get to do their job?

If the son was so incensed why did he not do the cleaning himself?

He was there long enough!

In spite of every department being extremely busy, from my arrival at A&E to Ward 16, the care was exceptional.

I too was a nurse many years ago and know a bit about hospitals – I can only say Milton Keynes Hospital's doctors and nurses are doing a great job.

Cycle lane proficiency

SIR – The council will need the £3-£4 million to put right the deficiencies in design and maintain the existing redway system ('Bid to be cycling city' last week).

Adherence to national standards for cycling facilities might help the quality of any new provison.

Ian Norman
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – Its good to see MK applying to be a cycling town ('Bid to be cycling city' last week).

As your article states, a cycling town needs to pioneer, redesigning cycle routes.

Our redway system is in sore need of a radical redesign, as it is most unsuited to use by bicycle.

As well as the fundamental problem of mixing pedestrian traffic with wheeled traffic, the redways include very steep gradients, tight blind corners with no priority markings, blind unmarked redway junctions and dangerous crossings over roads with fast-moving traffic (usually at estate access points), to name just four.

These and other deficiencies need serious redesign if cycling is to be encouraged in MK.

Fruity Friday

SIR – I am writing to let your readers know that this year's Fruity Friday will be held on May 16 and to urge them to get involved.

The aim of Fruity Friday is to raise awareness about the link between lifestyle and cancer risk and to raise funds for our vital research and education programmes.

But as well as being a really worthwhile cause, Fruity Friday is also lots of fun. Whether you want to organise your own Beat the Banana! fun run or hold a 'guess how many berries competition', there are lots of ways you canget take part.

For children in particular, Fruity Friday is a great way of learning about healthy eating and physical activity.

You can get find out more about the event and get a fundraising pack by phoning 020 7343 4205 or by visiting www.fruityfriday.org

Don't tar all cleaners with the same brush

SIR – Having been a cleaner for 32 years I was appalled to read Raj Chaggar saying that hospital cleaners have the same standards as office cleaners.

How dare he say something like that?

I have never just dusted around with a static mop or dry wipe.

I deep clean offices and shops and keep getting called back as i do an amazing job (apparently).

I have had bottles of champagne given to me many times for my good work, so I am deeply offended by his remarks.

He does not know what he is talking about.

There may be some not-so-good cleaners out there but do not make all sound the same as there are some great ones out there also.

Prison staff pay

SIR – The prison officers' pay award that will be implemented on April 1 fails to give some staff any pay increase at all.

All around us the cost of living, housing and transport continues to rise, yet this Government and this prison service have again failed to provide an inflationary matching increase in public sector workers' pay.

Not a single member of the prison service will receive a pay increase matching inflation this year.

To put things into perspective, the pay of one single member of the European Parliament for a year equates to the TOTAL additional budget required to give an inflationary pay increase to prison officers.

Again, we perform, we achieve and we are under valued.

Good news made bad

SIR – Good news about new schools for Milton Keynes featured in the House of Commons on Monday, March 17, yet your report two days later sees things only through the distorted lens of a press release from Mark Lancaster, a Tory, which tried to turn it into bad news – quite a feat.

Jim Knight (a Minister in the Department for Children Schools and Families) in response to a question from Phyllis Starkey, Milton Keynes's Labour MP, announced £75million of capital funding for new schools in Milton Keynes over the next three years, plus more if Milton Keynes Council can prove it needs it. That's the good news.

When pressed by Phyllis Starkey on when he would announce the extra funding, he promised an answer in the next few weeks, teling her that her patient presentation of Milton Keynes's case had greatly influenced him.

Mark Lancaster then joined in rather belatedly to demand more money now, for which he was told to wait – hardly the refusal to answer that he claims.

Jim Knight then pointed out that Mark Lancaster's own Tory spending plans would have cut the money available for spending on Milton Keynes Schools, not increased it.

Mr Lancaster's efforts would be better expanded on ensuring that the Lib-Dem council doesn't waste this money, just as it has wasted money through its incompetent management of the school building budget in the last few years.

Sing and we'll win

SIR – Make sure if your are one of the 30,000 going to support the Dons in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final on Sunday that you take your singing voices with you.

Remember that the match is being broadcast live on Sky Television and there is no greater way of getting our support for the Dons and this city of ours than taking full advantage and singing our hearts out.

A lot of people going to the game may not be used to singing at matches but it is vital that we create a fantastic atmosphere on the day and make ourselves heard over the fans from Grimsby. If singing is not your thing, stamp, scream and clap your way through the ninety minutes it will help the team in the long run.

Hopefully Ince's boys will give us plenty to shout about. Here's to 30,000 sore throats on Monday!

Precept value

SIR – Your correspondent, Peter Heaton (Letters last week) complains about the rise in this parish council's precept, and suggests we are empire builders.

We take our financial obligations very seriously and decisions on expenditure are not taken lightly.

All our meetings are open to the public and residents may raise any issue that concerns them and, can influence the policy of this parish council.

I do not recall P Heaton attending any of our meetings.

We believe we offer genuine value for the money paid by residents.

A quick look at other parishes in the borough reveals expenditure levels that make this point strongly: Woughton PC £126.27; Bletchley & Fenny Stratford TC £115.52; West Bletchley PC £115.10; Campbell Park PC £94.91; Wolverton & Greenleys TC £90.50.

This makes our £43.50 look like good value.

Mr Heaton is very welcome to talk directly to us and I would like to extend a personal invitation to him to come along to the next parish council meeting on April 28 at 7.15pm.

We'll even offer tea or coffee.

Farm land windfall: Cllr Sam Crooks estimates there will be more than £100m flowing into council coffers

Council looks set to make millions from sale of land

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE sale of land for housing development is to give the council millions of pounds in years to come.

The agricultural land owned by Milton Keynes Council is part of the Western Expansion Area (WEA) south of Stony Stratford.

Known as area 10, the space includes 228 hectares of land, around 100 hectares of which is owned by the council.

Last week councillors gave the go-ahead for a collaboration agreement between the council and developers Redlawn Land Ltd, which also owns land in the area, in order to allow single infrastructure provision for the whole site.

Redlawn Land is a subsidiary of developer Gallagher Estates, which has become a partner with MK Council in the WEA after purchasing the land interests in the area from Genesis Land last year.

Once this work has been finished the council will be able to sell the land to a developer.

Cabinet member for finance, Sam Crooks, said early estimates of the 'farms income' are that it will give the council more than £100 million over ten years.

However, this is dependent on land values and the property market.

He explained that the land has to be sold in order to release it to build the houses required by the Government.

Milton Keynes will gain 70,000 of 200,000 new homes earmarked for the south-east region by 2031, and 6,500 of these are to be built in the WEA.

The council is yet to decide how the income will be spent, but Cllr Crooks has begun floating some ideas.

These include funding the maintenance of Milton Keynes' ageing road and bridge network, installing high speed broadband across the city and, using the money for long-term investment projects such as flooding prevention.

"There is always this huge temptation that if you get money you just use it to solve the problem of two or three years hence," he said.

"But with flood prevention you don't just solve the problem tomorrow – it means saying we need a phase programme in particular areas which may take 20/30 years to achieve but we need to start putting it in place now.

"I would also like to see a long term investment in high broadband speeds as I think our children will talk about broadband the same way we talk about gas and electricity, it will just be a very basic utility."

And Cllr Crooks would like to see the money used to help develop a symbol for modern Milton Keynes.

"What I am looking for is something really iconic, that will be in Central Milton Keynes and will be part of the Milton Keynes brand.

"For the last 20 or 30 years people have said Milton Keynes is the concrete cows, or possibly the roundabouts and I think we have got to move on now.

"I see it very visually as affecting the skyline, he said.

The council estimates that work on the infrastructure of the site will begin in Autumn this year.

Ice hockey stars arrested

TWO ice hockey players were arrested and one was injured after things got a little heated at Planet Ice.

Fans reported seeing a fracas during the warm up ahead of MK Lightning's play-off match against the Slough Jets on Sunday.

Jets player Paddy Ward was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital requring stitches for a split lip.

Following the incident, Lightning's Kurt Ivine was involved in a separate spate with Jets' Nicky Chinn.

The police were called 15 minutes before face off and were rinkside for the start of play.

But the game was quickly halted and both sides returned to the dressing rooms.

The police arrested Kurt Irvine, 32, from Birmingham, on suspicion of assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

The game restarted and the Lightning went on to lose 3-2, before the police arrested Jets' Nicky Chinn, 35, from Guildford, Surrey, on suspicion of common assault.

Both players were released on police bail until April.

Lightning coach Nick Poole said afterwards: "It was disappointing and regrettable. That's not what this sport is about."

Tackling Woodhill inmates' addiction to Prison governor Luke Serjeant

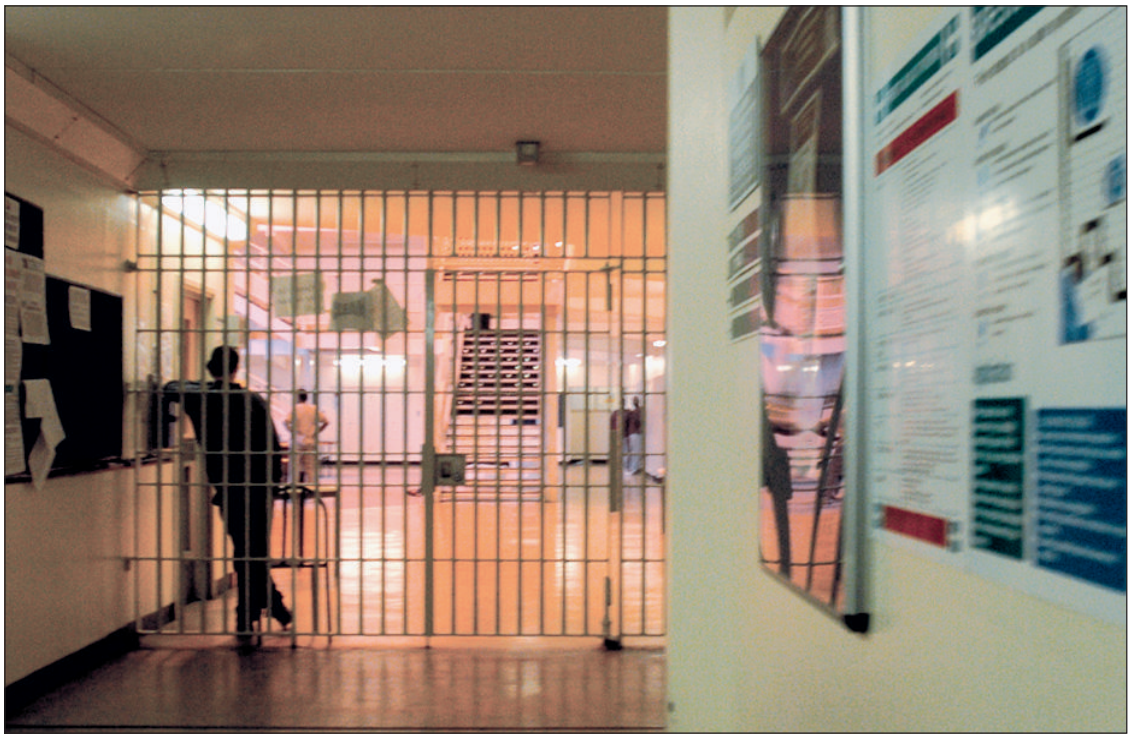
Woodhill Prison has an extensive detoxification and support service to help inmates tackle their addiction to drugs and alcohol. LAURA HANNAM spoke to a prisoner to find out how the service has helped him



THIRTY-FIVE-YEAR-OLD Nic came to Woodhill Prison, on Tattenhoe Street, three months ago with a severe addiction to heroin and cocaine.

His life taking drugs had led to him being convicted of grievous bodily harm with intent and, he was sentenced to spend up to eight years in prison.

"I was using 2-4 grams of street heroin and as much crack cocaine as I could beg, borrow or steal," he said.

"I was an intravenous user which is more intense, so I knew I was in for a bumpy ride."

He is not alone as it is estimated that over half of the 200 new prisoners that enter the prison every month suffer from an addiction to alcohol or drugs.

On arriving at the jail he was brought to the First Night Centre, where inmates are introduced to prison life and interviewed to check their needs.

Having been identified as a drug user, Nic was seen by a doctor from the detox team who gave him an assessment including a full medical, psychological and social history.

They found out what prescriptions he had been given on the outside - methadone and valium - and what illegal drugs he had been taking. He also had to give a urine test to verify this.

"I had been in police custody for two days, so I was starting to withdraw already," said Nic.

The next day he was taken to the Substance Misuse Therapy Unit (SMTU), where he was again seen by a doctor who decided what medication he should be given, tailoring the treatment to his needs.

"It was in a holding cell in the SMTU that it started to dawn on me that I needed to change my way of life," said Nic.

"I had been out of prison since May 2006 and being back in the holding cell and seeing my name scratched in a wall made it all too familiar for me."

For the next few weeks Nic, who was moved to the Substance Support Unit (SSU), was put on the prison's detoxification courses, which include sessions on alcohol awareness, crack awareness, heroin awareness, relapse prevention, and blood borne viruses.

The unit also provides yoga and acupuncture, which helps reduce cravings and anxiety and, improves sleep.

"Participating in these courses has helped me to stay focused towards adapting my life with the tools to help me become drug free," said Nic.

"It is only over the last two to three years that this prison has offered so much help, although detox has always been available," he added.

"It is only now that there are so many informative and therapeutic courses available which concentrate on after care to detox."

Throughout the detoxification and the rest of his time in jail Nic will be given continued support and courses from the jail's CARATS (Counselling, Assessment, Referral, Advice and Throughcare Service) team to help him to beat temptation and avoid relapse.

hard drugs and drink

When he leaves he will be referred to Fletcher House, a centre in the community which provides support for over 18s who want to address substance misuse problems.

Fletcher House will help him get back on his feet and refer him to people who can help him find accommodation, get a job or into further education and lead an independent life.

All this aims to help him avoid relapsing, re-offending and ending up back in prison.

The CARAT service, which is part of the government's national strategy for cutting drug-related crime, has recently been criticised in a report by the UK Drug Policy Commission.

The independent panel said evidence to show what worked in drug treatment was "seriously weak or absent" and also found for the 40,000 prisoners who go through detox while in jail, a lack of proper after care meant many went straight back to using hard drugs when they left prison.

Principle officer Alan Cowell, drug strategy manager at Woodhill, said the prison is doing all it can to give prisoners the ongoing support they need.

"There has been an increase in their client base and this is mainly due to the national increase in drug related offences," he said.

"The team have not been provided with additional resources, but are increasing their workload to facilitate this demand upon them. The team at Woodhill are committed to help people address their personal substance misuse problems, not to cure them," he added.

"It is all about reducing the risk to the users, their families and the communities in which they reside."

The report also said there was a lack of evidence for the effectiveness of drug-free wings in prisons.

Mr Cowell said Woodhill calls its unit the Substance Support Wing as they are aware they cannot create a drug-free "utopia".

However, prisoners on the wing must volunteer for regular drugs tests.

"We can't create an entirely drug-free environment, there is no estate in Milton Keynes or elsewhere that is called drugs-free-ville," he said.

"Where there is demand there is supply."

"The ethos of Woodhill's Substance Support Wing is individuals being able to take responsibility for their own actions and lives.

"Hence the majority of residents have made an application to reside on the wing as they must identify the need to change, not only for themselves, but for families and communities.

"To state that these wings do not work, are we saying that substance misusers do not want to change - as I have living proof at Woodhill that this is not the case."

Woodhill's governor Luke Serjeant added: "This is really complex work and there are no easy answers to the problems caused by drug addiction.

"I think that everything we do has to be seen in that context, but we do have a responsibility to try and tackle the problems that our prisoners face and to do what we can to provide a framework within which they have an opportunity to deal with those problems.

"The reality is that there will be some, who in spite of all the support they are given, will go back to taking drugs.

"Every success however means lives are changed, not just for the addict themselves but for their families and for wider society."

Feeling blue? Resident Pete Lindop and Cllr Liz Campbell highlight the recycling problems by the rubbish chute at Mellish Court

Residents see red over black hole in green programme

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

GREEN-MINDED residents in West Bletchley are angry that they cannot participate in the council's recycling scheme.

Residents of the flats at Mellish Court are not allowed to use pink sacks because Milton Keynes Council says their rubbish chutes, which go down into a big bin at the bottom, are inadequate for the job.

There is no facility for glass recycling either.

Peter Lindop, who lives in the building, said he has raised this issue with the council for a number of years, but with little success.

"There are 136 households in Mellish and all of them are throwing their paper, foil, glass and plastic into landfill," he said.

"I drive to my local recycling bank, but this is not environmentally friendly and in any case, most Mellish residents don't have cars."

West Bletchley Cllr Liz Campbell said she has come across a number of cases where residents in flats had been denied the chance to do their bit for the environment.

She has been contacted by Maria Rocton, a resident of Rutland House, on Middlesex Drive, West Bletchley who says she has spent years asking for washing lines to be installed in the rear yard of the flats.

She claims the metal poles are already there and it is only the lines themselves that are required, but the council has said that there is no budget for this.

Cllr Campbell said: "Residents in Rutland House wanted to stop using tumble dryers in order to save money on their bills and also to reduce energy consumption.

"You would think that this council would be interested in helping the environment in this way."

She added: "People in flats should not be treated as second-class citizens and as their landlord, the council should be supporting their efforts to reduce their carbon footprint.

"The Government has told councils to improve recycling among 'hard-to-reach' groups, but this council seems determined to do the opposite."

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said the council is aware of the issue at Mellish Court and have been working to solve the problem.

"I am pleased to say that within the next four weeks we will be providing a recycling centre on the site for the residents of Mellish Court," he said.

> "You would think that this council would be interested in helping the environment… People in flats should not be treated as second-class citizens and as their landlord, the council should be supporting their efforts to reduce their carbon footprint
> Cllr Liz Campbell

The facility will take all of the waste currently recycled by MK Council including paper, cardboard, plastic bottles, foil and glass bottles and jars.

On the call for a washing line at Rutland House, he said: "The council is always trying to provide services above and beyond the basic tenancy agreement.

"This is why we installed metal washing line posts for residents.

"Our main priority is to carrying out repairs covered by our tenancy agreements and because we look after 50 blocks of flats in this area alone the costs of doing any extra benefits can add up.

"However we will look at this again in the next financial year.

"Another way forward for tenants in the area is to consider applying for a housing grant for small scale projects."

Someone there who cares

In July 1997 Howard and Christine Morris had just started up a double glazing business. Things were looking up. They had an eight-year-old son Oli and were enjoying life.
But four months later Howard was diagnosed with a high grade brain tumour and told he had a year to 18 months to live. More than ten years on he has defied the doctors and, now 40, continues to live with the disease. Reporter JESSICA CUNNIFFE met the couple to find out how they have coped with cancer

Howard and Christine Morris

"I THINK I am going to have reflexology today," Christine Morris tells me.

It sounds like she has got an afternoon at the spa planned - but she is actually talking about visiting the hospice, as she does several times a week.

Christine herself is not ill, but she goes alone to Willen Hospice every Monday to its carers' support group.

Because for more than ten years her husband's cancer has forced him to use a wheelchair, get tired easily and even have to take a help bell when he undertakes such ordinary tasks as popping out to the garage.

For this reason Christine, 42, from of Appenine Way, Leighton Buzzard has, by default, become a full-time carer.

But thanks to one service, which is 75 per cent funded by donations from the public, the couple are given some relief from their day-to-day struggles.

"They do massage, aromatherapy and reflexology at the new carers' group," said Christine.

"We have a good old whinge about how we feel because being a carer is very hard work, it is emotionally difficult.

"It's little things there - like someone else makes the tea for me.

"It's the small things that matter."

Based in Milton Keynes, Willen Hospice's catchment area stretches out as far as Leighton Buzzard, also encompassing towns like Towcester and Winslow.

It provides support services for terminally ill people in all these areas, with 20 beds for inpatients and also care for 250 people living in their own homes.

These include the 15 people, and Howard is one of them, who attend this facility on a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

It is the fact Willen Hospice is so unlike a stereotypical hospice that means it is such a help for them - focussing more on arts and crafts lessons than morbidity and suffering.

"The thing is that when you first go into a hospice you think it is a very archaic place with people waiting to die," said Christine.

"But in fact it is a very happy place, full of laughter, and they just make people feel very comfortable, the location of Willen is fantastic, with rooms that have views over the lake."

Christine added: "We'd be lost without Willen Hospice.

"They've just given us so much support, emotionally and medically.

"And just the fact that there's someone there who cares. It is so important for patients to be able to talk to other patients. Because it is easy for people to empathise, but you can't possibly understand how they feel.

"Without them we'd be floundering at home."

Howard, who is undergoing chemotherapy at Stoke Mandeville Hospital, first went to the hospice eight years ago, not because he wanted to, but because his Macmillan nurse insisted.

Now he and his wife are extolling its virtues, as well as the help of Leighton Buzzard's Hospice at Home volunteers.

They also owe their determination to a support network of friends and family.

"We have lots of friends here in Leighton Buzzard. huge support, especially from Howard's biker mates. They have been superb.

"That's the thing he misses the most because as soon as he was diagnosed they took his driver's licence away."

And though Howard can no longer go out with his biker mates he can be proud to see his son Oli, now 18, work in the bike business himself.

MK heritage: Slated Row School tapestry

Tapestries honour MK's short history

AS part of the year-long celebrations of Milton Keynes' 40th Birthday, thecentre:mk will be displaying 48 metres square of unique tapestry from depicting the vibrant city of Milton Keynes

The tapestry, on Silbury Arcade near John Lewis, has been created by local school children creating a vision of the city through their eyes. It will be on show until April 20 .

Milton Keynes was designated as a new town on January 23, 1967 and in 2007 a year-long programme of cultural and sporting activities was started to celebrate its 40th birthday.

As part of this programme all the schools in Milton Keynes were invited to take part in an arts project which involved the production of a 48 metre square tapestry depicting Milton Keynes past, present and future.

Each school which has taken part has produced an individual metre square representing a specific area of Milton Keynes.

The MK40 Vision Tapestry project has been designed by the Millennium Tapestry Company Limited in partnership with Milton Keynes Council, Global Education Milton Keynes and Milton Keynes Arts Education Forum.

The finished piece takes its inspiration from the grid square system and will be made up of squares representing local areas within the city.

Robert Goodman, centre director of thecentre:mk said: "Milton Keynes has shaped the minds of several generations of children. Now, through this project we can see how the current generation view the city they live in. As they're the future decision makers of the city, we're thrilled to be showcasing their ideas."

Housebuilding plans turned down

PLANS to build hundreds of houses in the Wavendon area have been refused after protests from villagers.

Last Tuesday (March 19) Milton Keynes Partnership (MKP) turned down three planning applications to build large numbers of homes near the village.

These include proposals for up to 1,600 homes on land at Glebe Farm, including two segments north of Wavendon, one south of the A421 and another south of the A5130 Newport Road; 840 homes on land at Eagle Farm, stretching west of the M1 above junction 13 to Lower End Road; and 850 homes on Wavendon Golf Course, south of the A421.

Wavendon Parish Council, Woburn Sands Town Council, Hulcote and Salford Parish Council and Aspley Guise Parish Council all joined forces against the proposals.

They claimed the Glebe Farm and Eagle Farm applications were premature as the sites are designated strategic reserve and should not be coming forward for possible development until 2011 at the earliest.

Milton Keynes Partnership's planning sub-committee agreed.

Chairman of Wavendon Parish Council, David Hopkins, who spoke against the proposals, said he was pleased with the decision.

"We all knew the sites would eventually be developed as they are reserve sites, but the applications were premature as there is no development framework prepared for the area.

"There was also a concern it would impact on other sites which are in the local plan and effect the whole schedule.

"I look forward to working with the landowners and developers in a couple of years time."

A spokesman for MKP said the three applications in the Wavendon Gateway were refused by the committee as the Milton Keynes Local Plan states that development of strategic reserves is not required until after 2011 and, following the approval of a comprehensive framework plan for the area.

"The applications relate to land that is not currently allocated for development at this time," she said.

Fancy becoming a community cop?

Thames Valley Police looking to recruit more PCSOs for city

On the beat: PCSOs John Kay and Caroline Day

MILTON Keynes police are seeking fresh recruits to become PCSOs.

Thames Valley Police is looking for confident, level-headed team-players with a positive outlook on life to take up the challenge of becoming a Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) in the city.

PCSOs are uniformed, highly visible members of police staff and are key members of the neighbourhood teams which have been formed up and down the Force.

A PCSO is able to communicate and empathise with people from different backgrounds in a range of situations and is approachable and able to focus on the needs of the community.

PCSO David Huckle who patrols Ousedale School and Green Park, Newport Pagnell, said: "I have been a PCSO for three years now, before becoming a PCSO I worked in Facilities Management, and as a First Aid Trainers support manager. I enjoy being a PCSO as I enjoy talking to people and trying to problem solve.

"For two years I worked in Olney as part of the Neighbourhood Team and for the last year I have been working in Ousedale School Newport Pagnell, where my role is to work with the students and break down some barriers between young people and the police.

"If you want to make a difference in your area, I would suggest you go to your local police station and have a chat with some PCSOs to find out more and why we enjoy making a difference."

PCSOs are not police officers but wear a similar uniform and provide high visibility patrols to tackle issues like anti-social behaviour.

They have a range of powers and their salary starts from £17,751 however depending on the shift pattern that is worked, most PCSOs can expect to earn in the region of £20,000.

PCSO Julie McPheat, aged 47, patrols Monkston and Kents Hill, said: "I left Abbey National after 14 years helping people who found themselves in financial difficulty.

"In July 2007, after deciding life was too short to be practically desk bound for the rest of my working years, I made the scary decision to become a PCSO with the South Sector (Kingston) Neighbourhood Policing Team.

"It was scary in that I felt like a rabbit caught by the headlights of a car being in my fifth decade, leaving the confines of a comfortable office to walk around the streets of Milton Keynes. Now, 10 months into the job and I am loving it. There is never a day that goes by when I don't get a cheery "Hello" or the offer of a cup of tea. "People have welcomed me warmly into their community and regularly say how happy they are to see me around.

"The younger children are getting used to chatting to me and some even confide in me. The support I get from my team and the wider family of Thames Valley Police has been great."

■ If you are interested in becoming a PCSO call 01865 846612, email recruiting@thamesvalley.pnn.police.uk or visit www.thamesvalley.police.uk to download and application form.

Bans on football fans overturned in Appeal Court

TWO football fans handed six-year football banning orders for their roles in a pub brawl have both had their bans overturned by top judges on appeal.

Mark Arbery, 45, of Wordsworth Avenue, Newport Pagnell, and Daniel Mobley, 40, of Glebe Farm Close, Collingtree, Northampton, were each jailed for 18 months and handed the six-year banning orders on July 18 last year at Inner London Crown Court.

Both are Northampton Town football fans.

They had admitted violent disorder in relation to the January 2006 clash.

The football bans – imposed under the 1989 Football Supporters' Act – were added to the jail terms after the sentencing judge held that the fight was a 'football-related offence'.

However, the pair challenged that finding – along with the ban – before Lord Justice Moore-Bick, Mr Justice Openshaw and Mr Justice King at London's Criminal Appeal Court last Thursday.

They did so on grounds that the brawl occurred some hours after the FA Cup third round game they had attended between Northampton Town and Crystal Palace, and their adversaries in the fight were Charlton Athletic supporters.

> The Recorder was wrong to impose football banning orders because the fight arose out of a simple dispute in a bar in the course of which a racist remark was made
> – Lord Justice Moore-Bick

The court heard that the fight happened as Arbery, Mobley and fellow Northampton Town fans were waiting for a train back to the midlands, drinking in the Flying Scotsman pub, on Caledonian Road, close to London's Kings Cross station.

This was a day when several clubs had played matches in or around London and assorted groups of fans were massing around the area, some also waiting for trains.

One such group were the Charlton Athletic fans with whom the Northampton supporters clashed.

Lord Justice Moore-Bick overturned the bans on both men today after ruling that at they were inappropriate as the fight had 'nothing to do with the football match that the people had previously attended'.

"The Recorder was wrong to impose football banning orders because the fight arose out of a simple dispute in a bar in the course of which a racist remark was made," the judge said, allowing the two appeals.

Kingsmead houses held up by protests

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

PLANS for housing near Kingsmead have been delayed after residents protested against the 'space-age' designs.

Shenley Brook End and Tattenhoe Parish Council objected against a detailed application for the first stage of a development south of Kingsmead as the planned housing is 'inappropriate'.

Outline planning permission for 460 dwellings was granted to applicant Lagan Homes by Milton Keynes Partnership (MKP) in 2006 and detailed proposals for the first phase, including 160 dwellings, have now been submitted.

At a meeting of MKP's planning sub-committee on Tuesday, March 18 the application was deferred for further consideration, after objections from local people.

Although the plans were revised in February after pressure from residents, more than 50 people from Kingsmead attended the meeting and 78 letters of opposition were received by MKP.

Their main objection is still the 'inappropriate' and 'radical' design of the development, which they say is not in keeping with existing housing nearby.

Cllr Keith Thomas, resident of Kingsmead, told MK NEWS the planned housing was modern and unsympathetic.

"They are space-age, pre-fab like boxes in various shades of grey and black with flat roofs," he said.

"The concerns of the residents are, still, that the changes are superficial and cosmetic and do nothing to alter their prime objection which is that the planners are attempting to impose radical designs on an existing conventional development.

"The overwhelming view of the residents is that this will produce a divided community which goes against the ethos, and indeed the stated aim of the Design Code and Development Brief for the area."

> The overwhelming view of the residents is that this will produce a divided community which goes against the ethos, and indeed the stated aim of the Design Code and Development Brief for the area
> Cllr Keith Thomas

Other concerns are the narrowness of the roads through the site, lack of redways and the height of the proposed three storey flats at the roundabout in the centre of Kingsmead.

A spokesman for MKP said: "The application for the first phase of the Kingsmead South development has been deferred to give the committee time to consider representations made by members of the public."

Actor quite literally breaks his leg...

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

MESSAGES of 'break a leg' were unfortunate for a leading actor who will now miss out on Milton Keynes after an accident on stage.

Nicholas Le Prevost, who starred in the television drama Silent Witness, fell and broke his leg during a matinee performance of Uncle Vanya in Guildford on Saturday.

He was due to play the lead role when the play opens at Milton Keynes Theatre tonight but the accident ruled him out, occurring just four days before his 61st birthday.

After a short interval the performance continued with Mark Extance in the lead role of Vanya in the tragicomedy production by the English Touring Theatre (ETT).

Rachel Tackley, former Chief Executive of MK Theatre and now Director of ETT, said: "Clearly our thoughts are with Nick who will be sorely missed for the final three weeks of the tour.

"He is in remarkably good spirits despite everything, but clearly unable to perform.

Nicholas Le Prevost as Vanya who was to play the lead role in Uncle Vanya

"However, we are fortunate to have Mark Extance as an excellent understudy."

Mark has been playing Yefim and has therefore been part of the company since the beginning of the production.

Neil Pearson, who starred in Fever Pitch and Bridget Jones' Diary will play Astrov in the play.

1,000 enjoy Bletchley Eggstravaganza

NOT even the snow stopped over 1,000 visitors turning up at Bletchley Park on Monday to enjoy a fun-packed day at the Annual Easter Eggstravaganza.

Children and adults enjoyed a 'Hunt the Chick Trail' in the Toy Museum, traditional games such as 'Roll-a-penny' and 'Musical Statues' and many took home special sugarcraft Easter Eggs and Easter toys they had made themselves in the various workshops.

Visitors also enjoyed historical displays of 'The Rifles and The Battle for Europe re-enactment societies, demonstrating the equipment, training and tactics used by the British Army in the First and Second World Wars.

Kelsey Griffin, Bletchley Park's Events and Publicity Manager, said: "Combining Living History with lively and fun family activities helps educate children about our past as well as supporting the important work of Bletchley Park Trust in preserving this important heritage site for future generations."

Shadow Defence Minister Julian Lewis MP also paid a visit to Bletchley Park at the weekend, for the launch of a captivating new book, 'The Real Enigma Heroes'.

Written by Phil Shanahan, who was on hand to sign copies of his new book, it tells the incredible story of HMS Petard and her courageous crew who captured†Enigma codebooks from a†German U boat.

Surviving members of the HMS Petard also attended the event to pay tribute to their brave crewmates.

To order your copy for £19.99, please call Bletchley Park Shop on 01908 272684 or e-mail shop@bletchley-park.org.uk.

Willen Walkers from last year

Sign up for the annual Willen Walk

A LOCAL hospice is calling for families to sign up to walk around Willen Lake this summer.

Willen Hospice is to hold its annual Walk for Willen on Sunday, June 1.

Walk, saunter or run around both the lakes at Willen – even dogs can join in and walking in fancy dress is encouraged.

The 5k walk ends at the Hospice for refreshments and entertainment. Take your own picnic and it will be stored while you complete your circuit.

This popular family event is £5 per adult to enter, £1 for children under 16 – dogs go free. Walkers can start any time from 10.30am.

Julia Rogerson, events and promotions manager at the Hospice, said: "This is a great family event that enables anyone to get involved and raise much needed funds for the Hospice."

To sign up to the Walk for Willen 2008 call Sue on 01908 306991.

Lorries prompt call for survey

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR is calling for a traffic survey and city-wide strategy to stop lorries causing chaos in villages.

Chairman of the Danesborough Forum and ward councillor for the area, Cllr David Hopkins, is asking Milton Keynes Council to undertake a cross village traffic census.

He wants the survey to measure the volume and intended route destinations of lorries using routes through Woburn Sands, Wavendon and Bow Brickhill, with the view of preparing a Heavy Goods Vehicle routing strategy for the rural eastern flank areas of Milton Keynes.

"The Danesborough Forum has received consistent representations from each of the three parishes regarding HGV traffic using Station Road, Bow Brickhill Road, The Leys and Hardwick Road to and from south Milton Keynes and Bletchley," he said.

Cllr David Hopkins

"It would appear that vehicles accessing the landfill site at Newton Leys in Bletchley (now accessed from a new junction off the Stoke Hammond bypass) are using this route as are many other vehicles making use of the new, faster access to Leighton Buzzard and Aylesbury."

"We need to undertake a detailed census over a period of a week or more to gather the necessary data to enable MK Council to put in place measures to route HGV traffic on the major trunk and grid roads in and out of MK and avoid the rat running through local villages'.

Cllr Hopkins said he would be lobbying MK Council's cabinet to kick off this work as an urgent priority for the coming council year.

A council spokesman said: "We have undertaken a number of rural traffic surveys over the years to input into the development of a strategy to reduce the impact of inappropriate traffic which includes HGVs.

"As part of this ongoing review we will undertake an audit of existing data to see if there are gaps in our information and if so we may need further research in this area."

Hospice fundraisers surpass expectations to raise £53,000

STAFF at a housebuilding company have raised more than £50,000 for a local children's hospice.

Employees at Milton Keynes-based George Wimpey South Midlands smashed their fundraising target of £30,000 for the charity.

Throughout last year, builders, sales staff, managers and directors from the company got stuck in to some extraordinary activities including an It's a Knockout event in August, the 5km Milton Keynes Big Fun Run in September and a charity auction in October, which alone raised £25,000.

George Wimpey South Midlands managing director, Peter Gurr said: "Keech Cottage Children's Hospice in Luton provides care for youngsters who have a life-limiting illness and are not expected to survive to their adult years.

"It's such a worthwhile cause and our employees, and their families and friends, have really taken it to their hearts over the past 12 months, to help us exceed our fundraising target."

Neighbourhood meeting highlights parking as its number one concern

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

PARKING is the top priority for residents in Broughton and Middleton.

Litter, speeding and traffic complete the list of main concerns, following a Safer Neighbourhoods public meeting held by the Community Safety Partnership.

A Neighbourhood Action Group (NAG) will begin tackling the priorities.

A NAG is made up of about 15 people who represent various sectors of the community including police, the local authority, education, health, youth services, the parish council, the church and residents.

The top priorities have also been revealed for Loughton, where traffic issues, antisocial behaviour, criminal damage and rubbish form the main concerns of residents.

The Loughton NAG will meet on the first Thursday of every month.

Lisa Emmanuel, the Safer Neighbourhoods Project Manager, said: "Neighbourhood Action Groups are all about empowering people to change their communities for the better.

"Those who have taken part in the process are very enthusiastic about it, and projects elsewhere have proved that this collaborative approach really works."

The programme, which has been running successfully in Olney and on the Lakes Estate in Bletchley for the last 18 months and in Shenley Lodge and Furzton since autumn 2006, will be rolled out to the rest of Milton Keynes by April 2008.

If you would like further information on the NAG or you are interested in becoming a member, contact the Community Safety Partnership on 01908 252767.

Ooops! MK's residents rank among the clumsiest in the land

MILTON Keynes residents are the UK's second clumsiest according to a new report.

The figures were revealed in Endsleigh's 'Homes Report 2008', which identifies the UK's top ten safest and riskiest towns and cities for both accidental damage in the home and burglaries.

The results were collected by analysing accidental damage claims over the last four years from the hundreds of thousands of Endsleigh policyholders in the UK. Students were not included.

The report compared the frequency of claims in different UK towns and cities.

This means that the report shows the risk of an actual incident occurring rather than just the total number of incidents that have occurred.

The top three riskiest for household accidents were Milton Keynes, Bournemouth and Newport.

Endsleigh spokeswoman Rhiannon Harris said: "Accidental damage in the home can relate to a number of different claims but common examples are spilling a drink on the computer, damaging the furniture and DIY disasters.

"The pricing of household insurance is based not only on postcodes but many other factors and will therefore vary within different cities.

Our report underlines the risks faced by householders and therefore demonstrates the need for adequate insurance cover."

Witnesses sought to theft from lorry

THIEVES stole electrical goods from a lorry while it was parked overnight on a city estate.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the theft, which took place between 5pm on Sunday, March 16 and 5am on Monday, March 17, in Maidstone Road, Kingston.

A large number of electrical goods were stolen from the back of a white HGV lorry.

Detective Constable Jo Pape said: "It would have taken a considerable amount of time to remove these goods from the lorry.

"I believe that there are people who would have seen the theft."

Anyone with information can contact the police on 08458 505 505.

An artist's impression of the new coachway to be built at junction 14 of the M1

Coachway to move during rebuilding

FROM April 19, the Coachway will move from its current location at Junction 14 while a new coach passenger terminal is constructed.

The site at Campbell Park was chosen after consultation with passengers, the coach companies, residents and parish councils.

Long distance coach services currently calling at Junction 14 will move to a temporary location between Montrose Street and Pilgrim Street, off Silbury Boulevard in Campbell Park, where facilities will include a waiting room, ticket office, toilets, 80 adjacent parking spaces and a café. The site will be well lit, have CCTV and 24-hour on-site security.

Services will operate from this location 24 hours a day. This includes all National Express services to London, Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted, Birmingham and many other locations as well as the MK1 commuter service to London City and Canary Wharf.

In the meantime, the ground is being prepared for a state-of-the-art passenger terminal building to be built on the new Park & Ride site adjacent to Junction 14 of the M1.

It is anticipated the work will be completed in early 2009.

Life size: Dr James Brighton driving the HUMMER H3

Boffins produce ultimate boy's toy

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

ONE of the world's biggest 4X4 vehicles has been transformed into a remote-controlled car by city academics.

Engineers from Cranfield University's Off-Road Dynamics Facility have spent the last month transforming a HUMMER H3 into the ultimate boy's toy.

The systems used to control the car have been developed over several years by the team for crash testing full-size cars in real situations.

The vehicle can be driven just using throttle, fully proportional brakes, steering and gearbox.

The radio-controlled handset is similar to those used for standard remote-controlled cars, planes and helicopters, but the signals are fed to two dedicated computers in the back of the car.

Dr James Brighton said: "This project has shown that working with off-road vehicles can be great fun as well as a great challenge.

"Although this is only one area of the work we do with off-road vehicles, it certainly goes to show that this type of engineering research has a range of exciting applications."

The vehicle is capable of climbing a 407mm vertical wall, traversing a 40 per cent side slope and operating in up to 610mm of water.

Do you need a change?

Check out the area's latest job vacancies in MK's fastest growing newspaper.

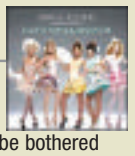
MUSIC REVIEWS

LOW
Flo Rida

I'M almost positive I reviewed this song four years ago. Of course, it had a slightly different tune and different lyrics, it was performed by Usher and it was called Yeah and not Low, but that's what it reminds me of.

I actually liked Yeah when it came out, but this one has the sound of someone travelling over familiar ground. It's fairer to describe it as a cross between Yeah and Planet Rock, but it's not as good as either.

Never mind, there's always something else to listen to.



CAN'T SPEAK FRENCH
Girls Aloud

DO you know what, I can't be bothered with this one. It's repetitive, mid-paced and predictable. Never mind – there's always the B-side...

HOXTON HEROES
Girls Aloud

... IT'S almost certainly the greatest thing Girls Aloud have ever done, and here it is hidden away on the flip side of a complete non-event of a single.

Sometimes life isn't fair and I should know because I'm a Luton supporter.

However, that thankfully has nothing at all to do with this song, which is the sort of thing you wouldn't normally expect a band (of any kind) to have the bottle to do, least of all a manufactured girl band.

For four glorious minutes, they royally slaughter indie bands that behave as though they're far more successful than they actually are.

Now, I'm not quite as inside the music industry as I once was (and calling working in a record shop 'inside the music industry' is probably pushing things just a tad), but whoever wrote the lyrics certainly gives the impression that they've seen a lot of this behaviour.

More to the point, the words are sung with utter conviction – this isn't a colour-by-numbers job like See The Day was, the group sound like they're singing it because they believe it and want to let off steam, not because it's a chance to be controversial.

However, the tune isn't having a go at random bands as an excuse for Girls Aloud to say how good they are. In fact, at no point do the band use it as a chance to brag, instead they're telling samey-sounding indie bands to get their own sound and stop copying other people.

As for the tune, it's thrashed to within an inch of its life – it's still a pop song, but it's a pop song that's been taken outside and given a damn good kicking, which is precisely what was needed to accompany the lyrics. What makes this all the better is that it's Girls Aloud at the very top of their game.

This is thoroughly brilliant and just like with the La's single last week, I'm going to recommend a single purely on the strength of its B-side because I can do that, see.

NUDE Radiohead

LET there be no doubt, Radiohead are not one of the bands that Girls Aloud are singing about.

This is one of their slower and more thoughtful sounds as it happens, and it's lovely. Even the line "So don't get any big ideas, they're never going to happen" can't spoil the mood, which is no mean feat when you think about it.

EYE FOR PAINTING

AN artist with an unusual eye condition has revealed a collection of abstract paintings inspired by Milton Keynes.

Helen Thomas' artwork is being displayed on Whitewall in Midsummer Arcade.

Helen has an eye condition, nystagmus, which makes her eyes move quickly from side to side and has made her more aware of how we see and process our surroundings.

Hundreds is a collection of paintings produced in response to a visit made to Milton Keynes in January.

During the visit Helen's observations were informed by how we make sense of visual stimulus.

This process of collating and distilling fragments of visual information largely informs her process as a painter.

At first glance the five paintings appear haphazard, but upon further inspection they are actually created by a deliberate abstract process of layering and ordering.

Each brushstroke updates the surface with new information, creating an overall composition and concentration of colour, form, tone and movement, creating a controlled image. The process employed by the artist is similar to the way we processes visual information through sight.

The five paintings – Refresh, Encounter, Centre, Trace and Departure – are 5ft square, and will be on display until May.

SUMMERSEASON

Eurobeat

Theatre summer season's a sizzler

BOOKING is now open for the sizzling summer season of shows at Milton Keynes Theatre and there is a new season packed with must-see productions.

Particular highlights include masked crusader Zorro in a passionate and stunt-filled new musical spectacular, unforgettable songs and sounds of The Ratpack – Live from Las Vegas, Motown magic in Dancing in The Streets and the biggest parties in town when The Wedding Singer brings the 80s back into fashion, and Eurobeat arrives with its own unique and interactive take on the world of Eurovision including your chance to text your vote and decide which country wins on the night!

Continuing a year of star-studded productions, Alan Bennett's trademark wit sparkles in Single Spies (28 April - 3 May) starring Nigel Havers, Diana Quick and Jack Ryder. Featuring two plays, An Englishman Abroad and A Question of Attribution, the production will delight anyone intrigued by espionage and fascinated by forgery.

In June, Peter Bowles and Angela Thorne, both well known for their roles in To The Manor Born, star in Alan Ayckborn's classic farce Relatively Speaking (16-21 June). which is beautifully crafted, wonderfully funny and charmingly English.

Party-goers amongst you who remember big hair and shoulder pads will be in for a treat when The Wedding Singer (26-31 May) comes to town starring theatrical favourite Jonathan Wilkes and Natalie Casey (Two Pints Of Lager and a Packet Of Crisps). This hit Broadway show is based on the hit movie starring Adam Sandler and Drew Barrymore and brings with it the ultimate 80's party atmosphere.

Dancing Supremes

The party continues with the arrival of one of the most original and truly interactive shows ever to grace the MK stage – Eurobeat (14-19 July). Starring Les Dennis and Mel Giedroyc this show parodies the hilarious world of the Eurovision Song Contest so grab a flag and a clacker, face the front and cheer just like a real Eurovision nutcase as ten countries compete - then text in your vote on the night because the audience decides who wins!

And if the party atmosphere gets you in the dancing mood, don't forget that the dance spectacular Havana Rakatan (17-20 April) brings all the heat of a Cuban summer to Milton Keynes featuring amazing dancers and one of Cuba's most popular bands live on stage.

Music fans are in for a real treat this season with a show for every decade from the fabulous 50s right through to the energetic 80s.

If swing is your thing, then make sure you're in the right place at the right time when Frank, Dean and Sammy come to town in the glamorous production The Rat Pack – Live From Las Vegas (12-17 May). Celebrating the incredible singing talents of these three world famous entertainers and featuring some of the finest songs ever recorded, this show will bring the music and lives of these legendary characters together again.

Experience the energy, emotion and electricity of Motown with Dancing In The Streets (8-10 May), a spectacular celebration of the music that broke down barriers around the world whilst producing some of the most influential and enduring songs of the 20th century. This stunning show re-creates the energy, style and music of all your favourite Motown stars including The Four Tops, The Temptations, Marvin Gaye, The Commodores, The Supremes and Smokey Robinson.

In July join Milton Keynes Theatre for a swashbuckling family adventure filled with treasure maps, buried gold and fearless seafaring pirates as Robert Louis Stevenson's classic story Treasure Island (22-26 July) is brought vividly to life on stage and young Jim Hawkins faces the most dangerous and exciting adventure of his life!

General booking for all of these shows and the rest of the new season is now open!

For more information and a full list of events pick up a new brochure or visit the theatre's website at:
www.miltonkeynestheatre.com
Bookings can also be made online, via the Box Office situated in the theatre foyer, or by calling 0870 060 6652 (bkg fee).

"I lost my weight with SureSlim, It really works!"

Sarah.

History

A friend told me about SureSlim, I had never heard of it but when I found out about how it worked, I knew it was for me. After having my children, I just never seemed to be able to lose the weight. I tried another healthy eating plan but I would get so far and then the weight would creep back on again.

Solution

I almost feel like a fake when people tell me how well I have done, as I don't really feel that it has been that hard. I am now in control of my weight and I never doubted that I was going to reach my goal. I am eating a great varied diet and I have never felt so healthy, after just 3 months on the plan my cholesterol had halved.

I have lost 70.5lbs and it has made a real difference to my life. I can do so much more with the children, I hated having to watch them do things without me but I just never had the confidence to join in.

I would recommend SureSlim to anyone, I just can't see any down sides to doing the plan! It really is a way of life and I feel that I have learnt a lot about myself and how my body works, and I am confident that I will never go back to how I was 5 months ago. I have found the magic key to managing my weight forever, I just wish I had found it sooner.

MKBUSINESS

MK firms need to get up to speed on 2012 Olympic opportunities

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

BUSINESSES in Milton Keynes have been slow off the starting block when it comes to capitalising on the London Olympics, according to new research.

The Lloyds TSB Official Business Guide for London 2012 taps into business optimism and a statement from the bank said business in Milton Keynes could miss out on a slice of £21 billion from the event.

According to Lloyds TSB, British firms are yet to take full advantage of the commercial rewards associated with the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Milton Keynes is set to be involved in a variety of sports training and events as spectators flock to the capital.

New research from Lloyds TSB highlights the fact that 71 per cent of Milton Keynes firms reported that they have not yet looked into the opportunities around the 2012 Games.

Lloyds TSB's research also demonstrates that this sentiment is present in many businesses across the UK, with three quarters of firms nationally reporting a similar 'economic blind-spot'.

Despite the fact that they have not yet investigated 2012 opportunities, businesses in Milton Keynes remain upbeat about the London Games, with 41 per cent of respondents feeling the Games will have a positive economic benefit on their own business.

Over half also feel the Games will have a positive economic impact on the region as a whole and the same proportion of businesses in Milton Keynes believe there will be a positive impact on the UK as a whole.

Fifteen per cent of businesses in Milton Keynes plan to capitalise on this optimism and start looking into the opportunities over the next 12 months.

The research also revealed that 51 per cent of respondents in Milton Keynes feel they need further support and guidance on how to take full advantage of the business benefits.

For that reason, Lloyds TSB is keen to offer its new guide, which has been designed to help companies of all sizes.

It offers advice on how to get 'fit to supply', explaining every aspect of the supply chain, including the unique procurement policies involved.

It also covers useful sources of support such as the London 2012 Business Network as well as practical financial advice.

The information contained in the guide is based on interviews with dozens of experts, including officials from the Olympic Delivery Authority (ODA) and the London Organising Committee for the Olympic Games and Paralympic Games (LOCOG), Lloyds TSB, regional development agencies and businesses with Olympic and Paralympic Games supply chain experience.

Kevin Stannard, Area Director for Lloyds TSB Corporate Markets in East Anglia and the South Midlands said: "The London 2012 Games offers one of the biggest business opportunities this country has seen in 50 years.

"Regardless of industry, it provides a golden opportunity for businesses in Milton Keynes to expand, diversify and reach new audiences.

"Although the opening ceremony is four years away, we urge businesses to take action now in order to grab a piece of the pie."

Sebastian Coe, Chairman of LOCOG commented: "With over £6bn of contracts available, businesses need to act now to make the most of the opportunities available between now and 2012.

"London 2012 is already providing a unique opportunity for businesses throughout the UK to raise their profile and reputation on the global stage, and the amount of big sporting events coming to the UK could make this a 'golden decade' for major events in the UK and, therefore, British business."

The research also revealed some key misconceptions about the 2012 opportunities, with a third of East of England firms do not feel their business is large enough to compete.

One in five of East of England firms believe that because they are not based in London the opportunities are not open to them but in fact approximately half of the contracts already let have been won by businesses outside London.

For further information on the Lloyds TSB Official Business Guide for London 2012, visit www.lloydstsb.com/london2012business or talk to your Lloyds TSB relationship manager.

College expansion's recruitment drive

MILTON KEYNES COLLEGE, one of the city's biggest success stories in recent years, is looking for new talented staff to help drive its expansion.

The Staff Recruitment Days begin tomorrow and offer the opportunity for people to come along to the College's Bletchley Campus and discuss their skills, experience and career aspirations.

Alison Wayman, Head of Human Resources, said: "There are now over 1,200 of us committed to doing the best job to help our students succeed and we need a range of talented people to keep growing.

"Roles at the college range from lecturers to finance professionals, from assessors to student support staff.

"It really is a diverse and vibrant organisation."

Ash Mystry, who joined the college's Teacher Training team in January, said: "It's firstly been very supportive, and all very positive.

"It's a college that's going somewhere, it's dynamic in its approach and I'm happy to be part of it.

"These are exciting times at the college."

This summer sees the opening of a new Mk6 sixth form centre at the college's revamped Bletchley Campus and the launch of a new University Centre in Silbury Boulevard, where students will be able to study for Foundation Degrees and other Higher Education qualifications.

Julie Mills, the college's Deputy Principal said: "The college's growth in the last few years has been amazing.

"In two years the number of full time students has increased by over 40 per cent."

The college now has over 3,000 16 to 18-year-olds studying at its campuses in the city.

Staff also work around 17,000 adults, at college, in the community and in the workplace and also with offenders, in custody and in the community.

There are also 450 apprentices and over 400 young people aged 14 to 16 who come to college to experience vocational and work-related study.

The college would like to meet experienced teachers and assessors but also from industry specialists, as full job training and ongoing professional development can be provided.

The recruitment days are on Thursday, March 27 from 4 to 8pm and Saturday, March 29 from 10am to 2pm.

TAYLORS
Milton Keynes

Sales Negotiators and Mortgage Consultant required

Industry leading basic salaries with realistic on target earnings of £25-30k per annum

Taylors Estate Agents are the most successful selling agent in and around Milton Keynes. Since the start of this year we've opened a new office in Westcroft and have also launched a brand new Lettings department.

Due to this expansion and an increase in our share of the local market, we're now looking for new Sales Negotiators and a Mortgage consultant to join the team at our busy and prestigious Central Milton Keynes office.

To fill these roles you'll need to be target focused and prepared to work hard in a busy but rewarding environment.You'll need to be confident, persuasive and able to offer our valued customers a superb service. You'll be professional and presentable at all times and have a real desire to build a long term sales career in a business that is still expanding.

We offer promotional opportunities internally and a real career path that is unrivalled within the industry.

Previous estate agency experience is not essential, but sales skills, 100% effort and commitment are. Full training will be provided for the right candidates.

If you're looking for more than just a job, why not call our Regional Manager, Matthew Giggs or Julian Stratton in confidence on 01908 563825 for more information and an application pack or send a cover letter and CV to stonystratford@taylorscountrywide.co.uk

MKNEWS

The place to be

At Milton Keynes, we're supporting the growth of our vibrant city while continuing to deliver excellent services. It's an exciting place to be and we're keen to get the balance right - including the work-life balance. So if you're looking for family friendly benefits and the chance to make a difference, make a move to MKC.

Senior Policy Officer

£40,101 - £47,235 Ref: 50016084/MKN

This key role will support continuous improvement, effective performance management, and best value through the development, implementation, and review of corporate policies and strategies. Confident, professional, and persuasive with a degree or management qualification, you will have considerable experience in a similar role in a large, complex environment.

Intermediate Care Team Operation Manager

£31,606 - £36,657 Ref: 50012173/MKN

This is a unique opportunity to be at the forefront of 24-hour rapid response intermediate care services in Milton Keynes. Innovative and insightful with a degree or equivalent, you'll have considerable experience of managing care teams and developing services for older people and the ability to work out of hours.

Children's Trust Communications Officer

£27,594 - £32,436 Ref: 50015055/MKN

Responsible for building a strong and clear image for the Children's Trust, you will develop the communications strategy, provide advice to senior managers, and manage the production of key publications and websites. Aware of the latest communications technology, you will have considerable experience of managing communications and publications.

Animal Control Officers

£17,154 - £20,736 Ref: 50016924/MKN

In this key role, working within a small friendly, flexible team you will be responsible for pest control with occasional dog control duties. Experience of dealing with pest control problems including rats, mice, fleas, bed bugs, cockroaches, and other insects will be essential, although development training will be provided. Knowledge of nuisance birds and drainage issues would be advantageous.

Work vehicle provided.

For informal enquiries please contact Simon Teesdale on 01908 252354.

Interview date: 22 April 2008.

To apply online visit: www.theplacetobe.info

For an application form, email: jobs@milton-keynes.gov.uk Call us on 01908 253344 or 253462 (24 hour answerphone). If you have a hearing impairment and have access to Minicom please phone 01908 252727 (office hours only). Please quote appropriate reference. Salaries will normally start at the first point of the grade.

Closing date unless otherwise stated: 11 April 2008.

We are unable to accept CVs, unless accompanied by a completed application form.

Spurgeons
for children and young people

SPURGEONS (Registered Charity 1081182) is an International Christian Voluntary Agency providing a range of services for children and families.

CHILDREN'S CENTRE DRIVERS
(Ref: 2131TRL)
Salary: £8.63 per hour
Mileage: 40p per Mile
Drivers are required to collect children/young people who are separated from their families and bring them to identified venues in Bedfordshire for contact. The children/young people would then be returned to their residential address.
We are looking for people who can relate well to children and be sensitive to their needs, work on their own initiative and keep a basic log of mileage and duration of each journey.
Drivers will provide their own vehicle and carry fully comprehensive insurance accompanied by business use.

SATURDAY CONTACT SUPERVISORS
£9.21 per hour (Ref: 2132TRL)
Casual, as and when
Contact Workers are required to supervise contact sessions for children, usually referred by Bedfordshire Social Services, who are separated from their parents.
We are looking for people who have qualifications and/or experience of working with children, who can relate well to people and be sensitive to their needs, work on their own initiative and keep basic written records.
The person/s appointed will join a team of flexible casual staff. Training and supervision will be given.

RECEPTIONIST/CLERK/TYPIST
Starting salary in the range of £8,083 - £8,648 per annum rising to £8,989 per annum
21½ hours per week
(Mon & Wed 8.45am-6pm, Fri 1-6pm) (Ref: 2133TRL)
We are looking for someone who:
- can cover the reception area of the Family Centre, answer the telephone and assist in the general administration of our busy office
- has a good working knowledge of English Language, RSA II Typing and experience of using Word
- has the ability to work under pressure, with minimum supervision, prioritise and have an understanding of confidentiality and anti-discriminatory practice
- can work as a helpful team player with a flexible, cheerful manner
- is in sympathy with the core values of the organisation

P Public Notices/Tenders

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A5 TRUNK ROAD (OLD STRATFORD ROUNDABOUT, NORTHAMPTONSHIRE TO A5/A509 INTERCHANGE, MILTON KEYNES BYPASS, MILTON KEYNES) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 200

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A5 Trunk Road between the County of Northamptonshire and the Borough of Milton Keynes to allow for concrete repair works to the trunk road and to the Oxhorse Accommodation bridge, Galley Hill, Brick Kiln, Fullers Slade and H2 overbridges to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works would last approximately 7 weeks starting on, or after, Monday 21 April 2008. The Order would come into force on 14 April 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order would be to close –

(i) in turn, the northbound carriageway and the southbound carriageway of the A5 trunk road from the A5/A508/A422 Old Stratford Roundabout to the A5/A509 Interchange,

(ii) the northbound and southbound entry and exit slip roads at the A5/A422 Abbey Hill Interchange,

(iii) the northbound entry and southbound exit slip roads at the A5/A509 Interchange, and

(iv) all the laybys adjacent to the northbound and southbound carriageways of the length of trunk road described at (i) above.

The carriageway and slip road closures would be overnight between 7pm Mondays to Fridays and 7am the following mornings, and the layby closures for 24 hours daily.

During each weekend of the works period, either a lane 1 or lane 2 closure would be in place continuously from 7am Saturday to 6am Monday for the safety of the general public while the carriageways are repaired.

During the carriageway closures southbound vehicles would be diverted from the A5/A508/A422 Old Stratford Roundabout onto London Road, Queen Eleanor Street, Watling Street and Portway. Northbound vehicles vice versa.

Traffic signs would indicate the extent of the prohibitions (which would not apply to works or emergency service vehicles), lane closures and diversion routes.

Honda Sport… and all that Jazz

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

NEW CAR ROAD TEST

HONDA JAZZ 1.4 SPORT
SYNCOPATED SPORTS

FIRST things first. We should take the Sport part of this particular Honda Jazz's moniker with a fistful of salt.

After all, it's mechanically similar to the rest of the Jazz range with just a few bits of additional trim. Right?

Well, yes and no. Honda reserve their Type-R sub-brand for their hotted up creations but don't discount the Jazz Sport as a pedestrian pedal. This is Honda remember.

There's an unmistakable buzz you get behind the wheel of the Jazz Sport. It's that feel you get when you drive well-sorted BMWs, Porsches and Subarus, namely that this car has been built by enthusiasts, car nuts who can't resist engineering a big shovelful of fun into even the most sensible transport.

Of course, the Jazz can play the sensible card with aplomb, but get it on a twisty road and it'll plaster a big grin across your face in a way that few of its rivals could ever countenance.

There are a couple of small changes that help the Jazz Sport in this regard.

The first is the steering. Whereas the 'cooking' Jazz models have a steering rack that takes 3.71 turns to move from full right to full left lock, the Jazz Sport takes only 3.54 turns. The result is a more direct feel to the steering that gives the Sport a noticeably pointier feel than you'd at first expect in such an innocuous little hatch.

The other factors that help the Sport wear its badge without feeling a fraud are the specially designed wheels and lower profile tyres.

Although they don't exactly make the Jazz look like an escapee from a pit lane, they do firm up the ride a little, and give more feedback through the chassis and to the seat of the driver's pants. All good stuff.

At £12,260, the Jazz Sport is a hefty £1,000 step up from the Jazz SE, but for some the fancy wheels, rubberwear, sports grille, bodykit, front fog lamps and a meaty CD based stereo system will convince them to stretch to the Sport.

Other items of equipment unique to this model include locking wheel nuts, an intermittent rear windscreen wiper, outside temperature gauge, black interior trim and a driver's seatback pocket.

While it's doubtful that total road atlas stowage space will figure in too many people's buying decisions, the Jazz's styling will attract a good few people through the doors of their local Honda dealership.

Although the Honda Jazz Sport is more an exercise in badge engineering, the inherent excellence of the Jazz's underpinnings mean that it never feels like it's trying to hoodwink us with its competition credentials.

This is a car that has motorsport in its blood. However distant the family link, it's there.

You can feel it the moment you turn a wheel, whenever you feel the suspension load up, every time you lean on the low profile tyres. It's not hot, or warm, heck it's barely tepid, but you won't care. The Jazz Sport has been tickled by the fun stick. Have you?

ATTENTION BUSINESS USERS

Keep your costs down!

Buying nearly new really does make business sense!

Do you need to tighten the company belt due to the economic climate, but need to expend or up date your company cars to embrace new fuel and tax saving technology? Are the mileages getting too high on current vehicles, increasing your maintenance and service costs? You can limit both buy buying nearly new cars not brand new cars and let the manufacturer take the huge initial depreciation. Three makes of late plate cars available from one dealer…Perrys Milton Keynes.

GRIMSBY TOWN
Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final
Sunday, March 30. KO 1.15pm
Wembley Stadium

FOUR days to go until the biggest game in MK Dons' history.

Grimsby Town are standing between the Dons and their first piece of silverware.

The Dons have got the better of the Mariners twice this season with a 2-0 and 1-0 win in the league.

But league meetings and positions will count for nothing in this one-off show piece at Wembley.

Both Paul Ince and Alan Buckley will be hoping preparations leading up to the game go smoothly so they can named their strongest squad.

Grimsby boss Buckley tore into his side following their 2-1 defeat to Brentford on Monday, claiming none of his players had staked a claim in the line-up for Wembley after a poor second-half showing.

The Johnstone's Paint Trophy format changes slightly for the final. If scores are level after 90 minutes, the game does go into extra time.

It will be decided on penalties if the two sides are not separated after 30 minutes of extra time.

DONS boss Paul Ince is the sixth most booked player in the Premier League's history.

Since the formation of the Premier League in 1992, referees have been card happy and the Daily Mail compiled a list of the most booked players.

Derby's Robbie Savage topped the charts with 87 bookings, Ex-Arsenal star Patrick Vieira was third with 77, while now Sunderland manager Roy Keane was fifth with 71.

Ince, who spent time with West Ham, Manchester United, Liverpool, Middlesborough and Wolves in the top flight collected 67 cautions.

FELIX Bastians has returned to Nottingham Forest.

An unsuccessful month long loan spell with the Dons has seen the German Under-19 international return to the League One side.

The left-sided winger was drafted in as extra cover but failed to make a first team appearance for the Dons but did make the bench and was also involved in a reserves match against Peterborough United.

MK DONS v PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY, MARCH 21

Honours even after top-two showdown

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons were treated to the beauty and the beast of football during the Easter weekend.

The top-of-the-table clash with Peterborough United saw the spoils shared in a 1-1 draw on Good Friday but the Dons took maximum points at Accrington Stanley on Monday with a gritty 1-0 win.

The two games were a world apart.

A record crowd of 14, 521 turned out to watch the Dons take on Posh at stadiummk, while 1, 559 made up the crowd at the Fraser Eagle stadium on Easter Monday.

Then there was the pitches, at home the Dons have a smooth, wide pitch where the ball glides across and promotes attractive football.

Whereas Accrington Stanley's narrow pitch dipped in the centre, sunk under your feet and allowed anything but the beautiful game.

The results at the weekend ensure the Dons remain neck and neck with Peterborough at the top of League Two.

But the Dons could have moved three points clear had Kevin Gallen converted a nailed on chance right at the death of the meeting with Posh.

Aaron Wilbraham celebrates with Keith Andrews after scoring

The veteran striker, on as a second-half substitute, screwed an effort wide when he was just yards away from goal.

Had Gallen converted the last-gasp strike the Dons would have claimed an injury time win, instead they had to settle for the draw.

The Dons had taken the lead 12 minutes in when Aaron Wilbraham netted his third goal in two games.

Jemal Johnson had burst down the right and sent in a cross for Colin Cameron to get on the end of but a scuffed shot looked to have wasted the moment, but luckily for the Dons Wilbraham ran through to smash in at the far post.

Falling behind appeared to add a sense of urgency to Posh, with a strong support behind them, they hunted down a way to get back on level terms.

They didn't have to wait long as Dean Keates' fantastic diagonal through ball allowed Chris Whelpdale to send a diving header into the net.

Chances for each side were few and far between, with Posh's top scorer Aaron McLean kept quiet by the Dons defence.

A draw was a fair reflection on the match and the bumper crowd, which included Manchester United boss Sir Alex Ferguson, would not have gone home disappointed.

MK DONS v ACCRINGTON MONDAY, MARCH 24

Wright scuppers Stanley scrappers

IT was back to reality at Accrington for the Dons, a reminder that not all League Two teams play in a similar style to themselves.

In a rough, scrappy match it took an 83rd minute strike from Mark Wright to separate the sides.

Accrington had held their own against a Dons side that hammered them 5-0 earlier in the season.

There were several close calls for the Dons but Willy Gueret was rarely tested.

It was the Dons who were forcing saves with Stanley keeper Kenny Arthur making decent saves from Dean Lewington, Aaron Wilbraham and Gallen before Wright found the spot.

A great cross in from Lewington found Wright perched inside the area and the winger, who had been on for 27 minutes, hooked the delivery into the bottom corner.

Lloyd Dyer catches a ride as Mark Wright celebrates his winner

With Peterborough beating Chester City it could prove to be a valuable win for the Dons.

Now, from Accrington Stanley to Wembley, it's what dreams are made of.

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES

PAUL MITCHELL

EASTER time in the football calendar can be one of the trickiest times of the season. Playing two matches so close together can sometimes take its toll but, I have to say, we have performed brilliantly.

First of all there was Friday's top of the league encounter where, in my opinion, the two best footballing sides in League Two went head to head.

It didn't disappoint with both teams really going for it, but a draw was maybe a fair result. I do feel though that overall we shaded it on the night and maybe could have won it at the death.

The Peterborough game was always going to be total football but, without being disrespectful, Accrington's setup is a bit more in your face. You have to match them physically or you're in trouble.

The Gaffer made a couple of changes to freshen things up and, once again, the quality of our squad shone through.

In the end there was only going to be one winner as our fitness levels really kicked in as the game wore on.

It did seem for a while that the ball just wouldn't go in and fair play to Accrington, they tried everything to keep the score to zero.

When you have a player in the form of Mark Wright chomping at the bit to come on, then you have more than a great chance to break a deadlock. How many times have we seen him breeze into the box unmarked and calmly win games for us? Its a skill that can't be taught and Wrighty does it fantastically well.

Now that Easter is out of the way and we have put ourselves in a strong position in the league, we can all now start to really look forward to the small matter of Wembley. I don't think I've ever seen so much excitement generated by a football match and it has the whole of Milton Keynes rocking. I for one cant wait for Sunday, to get down there and cheer the boys on as trips like Wembley don't come along too often.

Let me say this though, the lads and Gaffer will only really enjoy the day if we win! That's exactly what we intend to do, so lets show everybody watching just what a great club we are and make it a day to remember.

See you on Sunday at Wembley.

Mitch

MOTOR RACING

Mark Webber

Red Bull in the points

POINTS are in the bag for Red Bull Racing.

In another action-packed Grand Prix Mark Webber finished in eighth place to collect Red Bull's first points of the season.

But it could have been an entirely different story had the sports leading body, the FIA, stopped the MK-based racing outfit from taking part in the race.

Red Bull had to present a detailed technical report to race stewards on Saturday following David Coulthard's crashing in practice the day before.

Coulthard's RB4 car suffered substantial damage, including the suspension giving way, after hitting a kerb.

Safety fears for the car were raised and team boss Christian Horner presented the teams case in front of race officials.

The team were cleared to take part in the Malaysian Grand Prix but have been told they will continue to be closely monitored.

But Webber gave Red Bull plenty to cheer about in the form of two constructor's championship points.

The Australian, who qualified in eighth place but was bumped up to sixth when both McLaren cars were handed five-place penalties, had managed to hold off intense pressure for Lewis Hamilton until he eventually had to surrender a place during a pit-stop.

It did not get any easier for Webber as two-times World Champion Fernando Alonso pushed him right to the end, with a gap of just 0.5 seconds separating the pair, but Webber held on for the points.

He said: "I'm pleased for everyone at Red Bull to get two points, it's been a tough start to the year for us and it's great to get the car to the finish today."

Coulthard managed to work his way up ffrom 12th to cross the line in ninth place.

No Capital gain as Lions tax Londoners with late rally

MK LIONS 75
Williams 18, Brown 15, Youngblood 14

LONDON CAPITAL 74
Gariba/Perkins 19, Ataha 8

MK Lions produced a late rally to seal a priceless win over London Capital.

Having come from behind the Lions claimed two points with a narrow 75-74 victory to keep their noses in front in the race for fourth place in the BBL Championship.

Early in the game, Capital had opened an eight point lead in the opening quarter at 15-23 off the back of a 6-0 run. They increased their advantage in the third period to twelve points at 48-60 after an 8-0 burst before the Lions came back at them in the closing stages.

A 10-0 burst for the Lions bought them level at 67-67 in the final period.

Capital immediately responded with a 7-2 tear of their own to take the score out to 69-74.

Yorick Williams bagged a pair of free-throws for the Lions, and that was followed by a Greg Harvey basket to get the Lions to within a point at 73-74.

A steal from Terrell Brown and a foul by Capital sent Brown to the foul-line with four seconds remaining.

Brown held his nerve to sink both free throws to secure the victory for the Lions.

ICE HOCKEY

Hello, hello, hello, Lightning in trouble

LOSING a cup final and the opening play-off games against Slough Jets in the space of four days could have ruined MK Lightning's season.

A disappointing end to the English Premier League, which saw Lightning finish in sixth place, could have been rescued as MK took a slender one goal lead into the second leg of the Cup final.

But Peterborough Phantoms tore them apart to win 6-3 on aggregate.

There was hope on the horizon with the play-off competition beginning at the weekend, but double defeats at the hands of Slough has given Lightning a very slim chance of reaching the finals.

After losing 5-2 to the Jets on Saturday, Lightning played host on Sunday and it was a return leg that was marred by a pre-match incident between Kurt Irvine and Paddy Ward for which police were called to the rink.

When the game did eventually get started there was no sign of Irvine although Ward did make an appearance later in the match.

Slough built a two goal lead within the opening 90 seconds as Blaz Emersic beat Barry Hollyhead after just 59 seconds and Nick Chinn doubled their advantage just 24 seconds later.

In the second period Lightning found their feet enabling them to pull back on level terms through Ales Parez and Ross Bowers.

Toni Alasaarela raises his arms in celebration after Ross Bowyers nets for MK Lightning against Slough

Pic Jezz Tibbetts

Over time was needed to separate the two sides as the scores were locked at 2-2 but that came to an end when Jan Krajicek scored the winning goal on the 63rd minute.

With games against Swindon and Bracknell to come Lightning will need to pick up points if they are to have any chance of reaching the the finals in Coventry.

■ LIGHTNING are at home to Swindon Wildcats this Saturday, face-off is at 6.30pm. The return leg on Sunday, face-off at 5.45pm.

MKSPORTSSHORTS

Local football

WEATHER played its part over the Easter weekend, preventing several local football fixtures from taking place.

South Midlands division one was hit badly with BUCKINGHAM ATHLETIC v Haringey Borough, NEW BRADWELL ST PETER v Sport London Benfica and STONY STRATFORD TOWN v Amersham Town all postponed.

WINLOW UNITED would have been wishing their game had also been called off as they lost 4-1 to Arlesey Athletic.

In division two MURSLEY UNITED drew 1-1 with Risborough Rangers and OLD BRADWELL UNITED lost 5-1 to Pitstone and Ivinghoe.

In the United Counties premier league NEWPORT PAGNELL TOWN had mixed results with a 1-0 win over Cogenhoe United, and a 3-1 defeat at the hands of Long Buckby.

OLNEY TOWN'S division one match with Buckingham Town was postponed.

Poulter putterless

GOLFER Ian Poulter was forced to play the final four holes of the C-CA Championship third round without a putter.

The Woburn based pro missed a 10-foot putt at the 14th hole and dropped his putter on the concrete cart path as he walked to the next tee.

Poulter said he had not damaged the putter in anger, but rules meant he was deemed to have altered the characteristics of the club.

If a club is damaged during play, golfers can use a replacement but an official ruled it was not and Poulter was left to play on with a pitching wedge.

No regrets

> If we come off the pitch with no regrets then it means we've done our job
> – Dons boss Paul Ince

MK Dons fans will descend on Wembley in their thousands on Sunday to cheer on their team in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy final.

The Dons will go head-to-head with Grimsby Town to contest the first piece of silverware this season.

The final will be the biggest day in the club's short history and boss Paul Ince is urging his players to give their all and have no regrets.

"As a manager you just want your lads to do well and perform.

"When you've got a chance to play at Wembley in front of 60,000 people, you want to come off the pitch with no regrets.

"You want to say 'we did all we could, I played well, he played well' no matter what the result. If we come off the pitch with no regrets then it means we've done our job."

While Ince may have played at Wembley a number of times in his playing career, he recognises for most of side it will be the ultimate stage and one of the biggest days in their career.

And for that reason he will be guiding the Dons around Wembley before the big day to ensure they are not overwhelmed when they take to the pitch on Sunday.

"The thing about Wembley is it's all down to how you handle the occasion on the day.

"I'll tell my players to keep calm heads because sometimes you can get over-awed, heated up and hyped up too much. They need to be cool, calm and play their natural game."

"I don't want them going out and getting sucked into all the balloons and razzmatazz – that is for the fans. I want them to enjoying playing the football they've played all season, if they do that we'll be fine."

The Dons are currently sweating on the fitness of Drissa Diallo, the defender dislocated his shoulder in the game against Peterborough United, and he is now waiting to see how it affects him in the next few days.

Should Diallo drop out, Jude Stirling would be the most likely man to replace him as fellow right-back Carl Regan is cup tied.

Drewe Broughton will not feature in the final as his loan spell with relegation-threatened Wrexham is set to be extended.

The striker, who returned to the Dons for the area final against Swansea City and scored the winning penalty, will attend the match in Dons colours but is set to play the day before for Wrexham against Barnet.

No matter which team Ince fields on the day he has one ambition, to return to Milton Keynes with the cup.

"If you go to Wembley you want to go there and win. But as soon as the game is over we know our focus is back on getting out of this league."

England Under-19s beat their Russian counterparts 3-1 at stadiummk last night. Two goals from James Tomkins and one from Andy Carroll kept the 8,814-strong crowd entertained.
